

SUNNY

Focusing on luxury fragrance products

Sunny design luxury glass candle jar with lid home decoration

Focusing on luxury fragrance products in the latest 10 years, Sunny Glassware is the supplier of 80% fragrance brands in the United States.

We are the exclusive supplier of Nest Fragrance, Candle Lite, UGG etc popular brands, which 80% aroma vessels are from Sunny Glassware.

With our strong support, customers fastly develop and from small workshop to industry leaders.

Product Description

Item	Top dia: 73mm Bottom dia:83mm Height: 98mm Max dia: 85mm Weight: 405g Capacity: 277ml for your choice	1. Any logo printing on the body 2. Any color painted,frost,electroplate, pattern laser carver for the finish 3. Special package like shrink wrap, color gift box, white gift box etc 4. Open new mould for the glass, wood, plastic or metal as you like 5. Different size and shapes meet your needs
sample time	1. 5 days if at exist shaped and size of glass	2. 15 days if need new shape or size of glass packing	Normal packing,Individual gift box, PVC box, window box, color box, white box, etc.
product capacity	500,000~1,000,000 pcs per month
delivery time	Within 35 days after the sample and order confirmed payment term	30% deposit by T/T in advance and the balance against the copy of B/L
shipment	By sea,by air,by Express and your shipping agent is acceptable

Detailed Images

All the images on this site are copyrighted by Sunny Glassware. Any unauthorized reprinting will be regarded as copyright infringement.

1 Take action on those competitors that most of your competitors only talk about.

It's sad but true, the principles that separate successful and profitable businesses from the also-rans have been well known for decades. There's nothing magical about them. They're easy to learn and even easier to put into effect. Still, they go largely ignored by the majority of business owners. These days, it has become popular to bundle up some of those old business philosophies in new clothing and present them as original innovative business techniques. Forty years ago, management consultants were exhorting retailers to excel in customer satisfaction, just as they are today. Then as now, only a

2 Take the time to listen to your customers; make sure that you're providing the satisfaction they expect.

Successful retailers take nothing for granted when it comes to their most valuable assets—their customers. There are a number of ways to find out how well you're doing in that department. The best ones involve asking customers how they feel about your store. Telephone or mail surveys of random samplings of customers are the easiest and most popular way to stay tuned in to their attitudes. Whatever satisfaction survey method you choose, stick with it. Once you establish a program for evaluating your customer satisfaction efforts, install that method as a permanent part of your operating procedures.

3 Remember that people do business with people they like.

If you and your employees are highly efficient, but working in a clinically detached manner, you are overlooking one of the easiest ways to keep your customers coming back for more. Worse, you are ensuring that you will have to replace many customers who would otherwise keep coming back and generating new referrals.

1 Take action on those competitors that most of your competitors only talk about.

It's sad but true: the principles that separate successful and profitable businesses from the also-rans have been well known for decades. There's nothing magical about them. They're easy to learn and even easier to put into effect. Still, they go largely ignored by the majority of business owners. These days, it has become popular to bundle up some of those old business philosophies in new clothing and present them as original innovative business techniques. Forty years ago, management consultants were exhorting retailers to excel in customer satisfaction, just as they are today. Then as now, only a

2 It's time to listen to your customers; make sure that they expect providing the satisfaction

Successful retailers take nothing for granted when it comes to their most valuable assets—their customers. There are a number of ways to find out how well you're doing in that department. The best ones involve asking customers how they feel about your store. Telephone or mail surveys of random samplings of customers are the easiest and most popular way to stay tuned in to their attitudes. Whatever satisfaction survey method you choose, stick with it. Once you establish a program for evaluating your customer satisfaction efforts, install that method as a permanent part of your operating procedures.

3 Remember that people do business with people they like.

If you and your employees are highly efficient, but working in a clinically detached manner, you are overlooking one of the easiest ways to keep your customers coming back for more. Worse, you are ensuring that you will have to replace many customers who would otherwise keep coming back and generating new referrals.

Just a business and the pressure to find a way to the world in our substitutes for an understanding of that best business principle.

Here are eight important ways to help you acknowledge the value of each of your customers and keep them coming back for more—all while leaving your competitors in the dust!

1 Take action on those competitors that most of your competitors only talk about.

It's sad but true: the principles that separate successful and profitable businesses from the also-rans have been well known for decades. There's nothing magical about them. They're easy to learn and even easier to put into effect. Still, they go largely ignored by the majority of business owners. These days, it has become popular to bundle up some of those old business philosophies in new clothing and present them as original innovative business techniques. Forty years ago, management consultants were exhorting retailers to excel in customer satisfaction, just as they are today. Then as now, only a

2 Take the time to listen to your customers; make sure that you're providing the satisfaction they expect.

Successful retailers take nothing for granted when it comes to their most valuable assets—their customers. There are a number of ways to find out how well you're doing in that department. The best ones involve asking customers how they feel about your store. Telephone or mail surveys of random samplings of customers are the easiest and most popular way to stay tuned in to their attitudes. Whatever satisfaction survey method you choose, stick with it. Once you establish a program for evaluating your customer satisfaction efforts, install that method as a permanent part of your operating procedures.

3 Remember that people do business with people they like.

If you and your employees are highly efficient, but working in a clinically detached manner, you are overlooking one of the easiest ways to keep your customers coming back for more. Worse, you are ensuring that you will have to replace many customers who would otherwise keep coming back and generating new referrals.

1 Take action on those things that most of your competitors only talk about.

It's sad but true: the principles that separate successful and profitable businesses from the also-rans have been well known for decades. There's nothing magical about them. They're easy to learn and even easier to put into effect. Still, they go largely ignored by the majority of business owners. These days, it has become popular to bundle up some of those old business philosophies in new clothing and present them as original innovative business techniques. Forty years ago, management consultants were exhorting retailers to excel in customer satisfaction, just as they are today. Then as now, only a

2 Take the time to listen to your customers; make sure that you're providing the satisfaction they expect.

Successful retailers take nothing for granted when it comes to their most valuable assets—their customers. There are a number of ways to find out how well you're doing in that department. The best ones involve asking customers how they feel about your store. Telephone or mail surveys of random samplings of customers are the easiest and most popular way to stay tuned in to their attitudes. Whatever satisfaction survey method you choose, stick with it. Once you establish a program for evaluating your customer satisfaction efforts, install that method as a permanent part of your operating procedures.

3 Remember that people do business with people they like.

If you and your employees are highly efficient, but working in a clinically detached manner, you are overlooking one of the easiest ways to keep your customers coming back for more. Worse, you are ensuring that you will have to replace many customers who would otherwise keep coming back and generating new referrals.

Company Information

Who We Are

Shenzhen Sunny Glassware Co.,Ltd

- More than 25 years experience glassware and ceramic ware supplier in China
- Innovative design capacity
- ISO9001 certificate approval
- Candle Holders, Bottles, Drinkware focus

Modest

Passion

Collaborative

· SAMPLE ROOM ·

· FACTORY ·

Surface Treatment

10+ production lines

□ Spraying

□ Engraving

□ Electroplating

□ Silk-screen

- Spraying
- Engraving
- Electroplating
- Silk-Screen

How to Make It

(Glassware Craft)

Normally Automatic Close Mold Machine-Pressed Craft is applied to make candle holders which meet following features:

- Top diameter large than bottom
- Mass production with high MOQ
- No embossed pattern on outer wall
- Simple pattern inwall is available
- Inwall Max-Min thickness: 1.5~10mm
- Bottom thickness: 4~30mm
- Low cost
- Simple shape containers

Machine Pressed

Welcome to our video channel as following links to watch Sunny Company introduction and products presentation
https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCcnnb_BDNnGW-w2W6AZmoJg
<https://youtu.be/esREMsXEgrw>

Packaging & Shipping
